

Hiss Was Under Red Rule, States Budenz

Former Party Leader Also Names Others

Washington, Aug. 26 — (AP)—Louis Budenz, former communist leader, always considered Alger Hiss to be "under communist discipline," according to testimony made public today by the House committee on un-American activities.

Budenz, now a professor at Fordham University, testified behind closed doors Tuesday.

Hiss, a former policy making official of the State Department, appeared at a public hearing before the committee yesterday to deny a charge that he was a member of an "elite" communist underground in Washington before the war.

Accused By Chambers

The charge had been made by Whittaker Chambers, a Time magazine editor who said he (Chambers) quit the communists in 1937.

The transcript of evidence showed that Budenz did not claim to know Hiss personally. When asked if he knew Hiss to be a member of the communist party, Budenz said:

"In regard to the relationship of a certain individual to the party, and certainly as far as the constant impression on me was concerned, it was that Mr. Hiss was equivalent to a member of the communist party."

"The phrase 'communist party member,' so far as I refer to it, was never used, but that he was under communist discipline was used and he was associated with Nathan Witt and Edwin Smith. Of course, this impression was strengthened in my mind, in fact, I knew Mr. Smith to be a member of the party. I had met him as such."

Budenz testified that he knew Witt, Lee Pressman and John Abt as members of the communist party also. Chambers also has testified to that effect. All three were lawyers in the old Agricultural Adjustment Administration in the early days of the New Deal.

Budenz identified Edwin Smith as a man "who was then a member of the National Labor Relations Board, or who was about to leave it."

Chambers never named Smith as being connected with the communists.

As late as 1944, Budenz testified, the name of Hiss was mentioned in party circles during discussions of people who could "use some influence."

Summon William Rosen

The committee summoned a 64-year-old Washington man for questioning behind closed doors today, but apparently made little progress toward clearing up one of the many contradictions in yesterday's testimony by Hiss and Chambers.

Rep. McDowell said the witness was William Rosen. The name of William Rosen was involved in the transfer of title of an old Ford car which Hiss said he gave to Chambers back in the mid-'30's.

McDowell said Rosen refused to answer questions, and declined to identify the name on the automobile title transfer as his signature. However, at the committee's request, he signed his name 10 times, and handwriting experts were called upon to compare the signatures with that on the car paper.

Call Query Of Anti-Religious Broadcasts

Washington, Aug. 26 — (AP)—A congressional investigation was ordered today into a 1946 decision by the Federal Communications Commission relating to the rights of atheists for free radio time to reply to religious broadcasts.

Rep. Harness (R-Ind), chairman of the special House committee investigating the FCC, ordered public hearings to open next Tuesday.

Harness issued a formal statement saying that some radio and religious groups contend the commission by its decision and subsequent actions has indicated that radio station licenses might be revoked in the future if they refuse anti-religious broadcasts.

"It is hoped," Harness said, "that the present uncertain situation with regard to religious broadcasts will be clarified in short order."

"But if legislation is necessary to define the rights of religious groups to the air waves, then legislation most certainly will be proposed when the new Congress convenes in January."

An attorney for the committee said the 1946 decision grew out of a protest by an individual against stations, KQJ, San Jose, Calif., and KOP and KPRC, San Francisco. He sought revocation of their licenses because they refused to make time available to him, by sale or otherwise, for broadcasting talks on the subject of atheism.

Tropical Hurricane Disables Two Ships

Miami, Fla., Aug. 26 — (AP)—A tropical hurricane more than 1,000 miles from Florida battered one ship today while another, disabled at sea, asked the coast guard to stand by in the event she needed to be towed out of the storm's path.

Storm warning headquarters at Miami said the Russian freighter Petnamka was in the 100-mile-an-hour storm, where "going tough." The Soviet ship had not been heard from for many hours but was not believed to be in distress.

The disabled ship is the 7,100-ton American freighter John Howard, which broke down 27 miles east-northeast of Jacksonville, Fla. She asked the coast guard to be ready to go to her assistance. The cutter Mocomma stood by off Daytona Beach, ready to dash to sea to take the craft in tow should she not get under way quickly.

A third ship, the American passenger-cargo vessel Virginia, cleared the storm after an encounter with wild seas.

The hurricane increased its forward pace to about 15 miles an hour during the day, but was still more than three days away from the mainland. It was reported moving northwestward or slightly west-northwestward.

American Red Cross officials held a meeting to discuss plans should the storm strike Florida or Georgia, but emphasized that a disturbance so far away could recede away from land without so much as a rain-squall being felt.

Illinois Demos Call For Sales Tax Diversion

Chicago, Aug. 26 — (AP)—Illinois Democrats tonight called formally for state sales tax diversion to cities, a state FEPC law, and a constitutional convention.

They denounced state payroll padding, political shakedowns, "injustices" of the Butler tax laws, "brutality" in state institutions, and "any restrictive and repressive" labor laws.

The pledges were made in a platform drafted by top state party leaders and submitted for adoption at the state Democratic convention in the coliseum.

Democratic Mayor Martin H. Kennelly of Chicago, in his first formal campaign statement, expressed "confidence" in the party's state and national leaders. He urged them to "stand on as well as run on" the platform principles, and "live up to the trust" the people give them.

Adlai E. Stevenson and Paul H. Douglas, party nominees for governor and U. S. senator, predicted state ticket victory in the Nov. 2 election.

The phrase "communist party member," so far as I refer to it, was never used, but that he was under communist discipline was used and he was associated with Nathan Witt and Edwin Smith. "No, I did not intend to kill her," Roy replied. He said he did not know she was dead until after his arrest early the next morning. He had ridden elevated trains all night and was seized after another passenger recognized him from photographs in the newspapers.

Earlier, two statements by Adams were admitted into evidence over defense objections. In the statements, Adams admitted committing an unnatural sex act after the little girl's death. But today, Adams denied the statements.

The case is expected to reach the jury tomorrow afternoon.

Chicago, Aug. 26 — (AP)—A pudgy 14-year-old boy told today at his murder trial how he smothered eight-year-old Nancy Schuyler. But he denied a sex act was involved in her death.

The boy, Roy Adams, gave this account of events after an argument with Nancy over ownership of 50 comic books:

"After the argument I pushed her on the bed and she screamed. I put a pillow on her."

"She screamed a little more and struggled. I put another pillow on her." Then he said he put a third pillow on her.

Nancy's body was found on last May 27 in the apartment where Roy lived.

"Did you intend to kill her?" Roy was asked by his attorney, Joseph Gannon.

"No, I did not intend to kill her," Roy replied. He said he did not know she was dead until after his arrest early the next morning. He had ridden elevated trains all night and was seized after another passenger recognized him from photographs in the newspapers.

Demos Contend Progressive Petitions Invalid

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 26 — (AP)—Democratic objectors to nominating petitions of a Progressive party ticket went before the state electoral board and contended that the petitions are invalid.

Counsel for the objectors said they would establish that the progressive petitions failed to meet legal requirements by reason of large numbers of improper signatures.

The electoral board ruled that the hearings, to be resumed tomorrow, must be completed by next Wednesday, the day before names of candidates for ballot listing must be certified to county clerks.

Shortly before the hearings began, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett was disqualified as a board member by a Sangamon county circuit court order.

Barrett's place was taken by state supreme court justice Walter T. Gunn of Danville. Sitting with Gunn were state auditor Arthur C. Lueder and Justice Francis S. Wilson of Chicago.

The switch of Justice Gunn, a Republican, for the secretary of state, a Democrat, gave Republicans a two to one edge on the board. Lueder is the second Republican.

At issue was whether the Progressive nominating petitions fulfilled election requirements that they contain 25,000 bona fide signatures, including at least 200 signatures from each of 50 counties.

William Costigan, Bloomington attorney representing the objectors, said he would show that the petitions had the required number of valid signatures from only 34 counties. The Progressives contend they have 75,268 valid names from 83 counties. They said that in 66 counties, 200 or more signatures were obtained.

Justice Gunn, board chairman, signed subpoenas directing several county clerks to appear tomorrow with records pertaining to affidavits they signed attesting to improper signatures collected by Progressives within their counties.

Costigan said 29 county clerks may be subpoenaed before the hearings are concluded.

The speech by theology Prof. Joseph Hromadka of Prague replied to a statement made in sectional debate of the council's assembly by John Foster Dulles, American Presbyterian layman.

This ended the first phase of the church battles here over Soviet policy and communism. The subject was brought before the council on its opening day by the two men.

Dulles argued that the Soviet Union is not devoted to peace. Prof. Hromadka declared the west was declining from a former position of a supreme world power and did not realize it.

In today's secret debate, reported later to the press by a council spokesman, Hromadka repeated that the west was deluding itself "when it imagined it possessed freedom and others did not."

This important section of the assembly, grappling with the general question called "the church and the international disorder," also got further into debate on pacifism and began exploring the problem of colonial imperialism.

The exchange of blood in 180 adults and older children was described by Dr. Marcel Bessis of Paris at the closing session of the International Society of Hematology.

Normal blood donated by healthy persons is fed continuously into the vein of one arm while the patient's blood is drawn off from the other arm, he explained. Ten quarts of blood, or double the normal amount circulating in the body, are used to assure a nearly complete swap in the patient.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 26 — (AP)—Successful treatment of a serious kidney disease in adults by giving them new blood for old was reported today by a French physician.

The patients are given a long transfusion which swaps their blood for new, healthy blood. This kind of swap in adults is unusual. It's frequently done in babies born with a dangerous blood condition caused by a substance known as the RH factor.

State Department Presents Kasenkina Letters To Police

Washington, Aug. 26 — (AP)—Photographs of two letters Moscow said were written by Mrs. Oksana S. Kasenkina are being turned over to New York police to find out whether they are genuine.

The State Department announced the action today, without stating there is an official suspicion that they were not written by the refugee Russian school teacher.

But press officer Michael J. McDermott noted to reporters that "their authenticity has not been confirmed." Other officials made plain they expected the New York police will check personally with Mrs. Kasenkina in the hospital where she is recovering from her leap to freedom from the Soviet consulate.

Only Unexplored Angle
The two letters represent almost the only unexplored angle of the affair of the Russian school teachers who missed the boat which was to have returned them to their homeland.

The State Department asked Russia for copies in last week's note which directed that the Soviet consul general in New York, Jacob M. Lomakin, must leave the U. S. Moscow unexpectedly complied with the letter request in responding with an order to close down the Soviet consulates in New York and San Francisco and serving notice the U. S. consulate in Vladivostok likewise must close.

The letters may hold the key to Mrs. Kasenkina's actual frame of mind when she was at the Reed farm, an anti-Soviet colony in New York, and later when she leaped from the consulate. Lomakin declared he "rescued" her from white Russian "kidnapers."

Mrs. Kasenkina has said she wrote Lomakin once from the farm. The other communication was the note she left in her room when she leaped from the consulate window two weeks ago.

She told reporters yesterday in her first interview that the first letter made clear she wanted to break with the Soviet regime and that she leaped to get out of Lomakin's custody.

Officials assume the New York police eventually will make the letters public as a part of their investigation of the case of Mrs. Kasenkina and her fellow teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Mikhail Samarin.

Making light of the closing of the Vladivostok consulate, McDermott told the news conference that the State Department "very often" had thought of closing it because "it was of no value whatsoever."

The "Voice of America" beamed to Russia today a recording of the interview with Mrs. Kasenkina.

The State Department said the recording was made during the press interview and contains the voice of Mrs. Kasenkina answering questions in Russian to inquiries by reporters. Her replies were translated into English.

Officials said the recording will allow Soviet listeners to hear Mrs. Kasenkina say in her own words and in the Russian that she did not want to go back to Russia.

The hottest weather of the year oppressed most of the nation today. There was no relief in sight.

The fifth consecutive day of the heat wave brought higher temperatures in the East and higher humidity in the Midwest.

New York had 100 after 12 noon (EST)—its second hottest mark in history. Baltimore also had 100. Most other eastern cities—even up in Maine and Vermont—had record highs for the day.

Nowhere in the country was there much rain. But forecasters said crops weren't suffering. In fact, they said, the heat was helping most corn and other big money crops.

Slight falls in Plains States temperatures didn't help much. The humidity jumped, making some areas even more uncomfortable. The Midwest suffered from the heat even more than the East did because of higher humidity, the Weather Bureau said.

Chicago, Aug. 26 — (AP)—Preston Tucker, president of Tucker corporation, is advising his backers that the company "has signed an option agreement with a very substantial financial group."

The information is contained in a letter that Tucker has sent to dealers and distributors of his automobile, as yet unproduced in volume.

The option agreement, the letter said, "has been ratified by the board of directors and the program is now in the process of final completion, which will result in the Tucker corp. being one of the finest companies in the industry and will be on a par with any other automotive corporation."

Tucker and his usual spokesmen were out of the city and could not be reached for elaboration of the letter. The office of Floyd Cerf and company, investment firm which handled the sale of $15,000,000 Tucker capital stock, said it could not discuss the letter.

Tucker has encountered many obstacles in obtaining financing for his automobile of radical design, including a rear engine and body safety features. One of his recent plans to obtain working capital was delivery of cars, the order of delivery the sale of accessories in advance of being dependent upon how much the prospective car buyer spent on accessories.

He said there were no panacea for the world's ills but most of them could be cured through understanding and cooperation.

"The United States will find certain solutions for its problems. The Soviet Union will find another solution for its problems. The solution which any particular nation finds will follow the line of its cultural pattern."

Most of the American and British delegates appeared shocked by the violence of Russian attacks against the United States and Britain.

Today for instance, Ilya Elrburg, a Russian journalist, told the Congress that the United States is preparing for a "Barbaric War."

During his talk he labelled Americans as representing everything from bourgeois barbarism to savages.

Los Angeles, Aug. 26 — (AP)—Curtis "Buzzy" Boettiger, 18, was reported in good condition today at General hospital where he is under treatment for a mild case of infantile paralysis, the same disease which crippled his grandfather, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Young Boettiger, who has been working recently as an assistant producer on a radio show, was hospitalized last night.

"He didn't seem very sick, but the doctors advised us to take every precaution," said Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, the youth's mother.

Oakland, Ill., Aug. 26 — (AP)—Fifty-five head of sheep averaged $109 apiece at the seventh international sheep sale on the J. D. A. Green farm near Oakland. One sheep brought a top price of $375, while the total for the 55 ran to $6,000.

A SENSE OF PRIDE

We picked up a copy of True (The Man's Magazine) and on one of the front pages were pleased to see a full page advertisement of J. Capps & Sons clothes. True has more than a million readers, so the illustrated message of "full measure" to be found in Capps clothes was widely circulated. We don't know how many ads J. Capps & Sons have placed with national agencies. None of their officials asked us to write this. We weren't tipped off by an advertising agency that the ad of a Jacksonville firm would appear on the news stands. We do know that everything the advertisement in True said about Capps clothes is true.

It was with a sense of pride that we read the attractive advertisement—pride in a Jacksonville firm which has become large and strong enough to make its way into national markets, and in Jacksonville for being the home of a successful industry. The National Enameling & Stamping Company is another local industry which advertises on a national scale. The Big Eli Company and both MacMurray and Illinois Colleges do considerable promotional work in a wide territory. The message of what Jacksonville has to sell and what it has to offer educationally are often seen far from the home institutions.

Capps clothes have been known intimately by Jacksonville residents for 100 years. That brand of wearing apparel has been advertised in the Journal Courier by retailers at various times for many years. We are glad to have had a part in the development of an industry which has expanded into the national industrial picture.

In Jacksonville are a number of smaller industries with possibilities of growth and expansion. We hope in years to come that the words "Made In Jacksonville" will become a byword with the buying public.

MAYOR BUYS FIRST TICKET

Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland (left) is shown buying the first ticket for the Zingabed Grotto first annual circus, an event which will attract thousands to the Morgan County fair grounds on Labor Day, Sept. 6. Orville Sherwood (center) and Edward Jackson, who are in charge of ticket sales, stand by while the mayor exchanges cash for his ticket.

Net proceeds of the Zingabed Grotto circus will go to the Shrine charity fund. Preparations are under way to accommodate 3,500 at both afternoon and night performances, when a number of thrilling circus acts will be presented. The grand stand seating capacity will be augmented by other reserved seats to be built near the grandstand.

Draft Registration To Begin Aug. 30 At 5 Places In County

Draft registration machinery is ready to roll. Final plans were formulated at a meeting of the Morgan county draft board Wednesday night. The first men, in the twenty-five year old age bracket, will begin registration Monday, August 30 at 8 a. m.

Chief registrars throughout the county were assigned places of registration at the Wednesday night meeting. Men will register at the following places:

Jacksonville, American Legion home; Chapin, Town hall; Meredosia, American Legion home; Franklin, American Legion home; and Murrayville, to be announced.

Office at Court House
The draft board will be located in an office on the first floor in the Morgan county court house. Mrs. Ann Strandberg, chief clerk, will be on duty there on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week.

Estelle Neff, chairman of the draft board, stated that the Selective Service law requires all males within the 18-25 age group to register. He pointed out that they could register at any draft board in the United States. If their records belong in Morgan county they will be transferred here.

Schedule of Registration
Registration will be from 8 to 5. Mr. Neff stated that to avoid confusion, men should register on days assigned to them by Selective Service headquarters. Registrants should follow the schedule below:

- "(a) Persons born in the year 1922 after August 30, 1922, shall be registered on Monday, August 30, 1948;
- "(b) Persons born in the year 1923 shall be registered on Tuesday, the 1st day of August, or on Wednesday, the 1st day of September, 1948;
- "(c) Persons born in the year 1924 shall be registered on Thursday, the 2nd day of September, 1948, or on Friday, the 3rd day of September, 1948;

PETREL MAKES LONG AIR TRIP
Perth, Australia — (AP) — Robert Beattie, a railway worker, went fishing here and hooked a bird—a giant petrel. A band on its leg showed it had been released by British scientists at Signy Island in the South Orkneys.

Local scientists calculated that if it flew over the South Pole it flew 5,000 miles. And if it took a route via Kerguelen Island it flew twice that distance. The petrel ended its travels in the South Perth zoo.

BEARDSTOWN BUSINESS SHOWS 12.3% GAIN

Beardstown—Retail trade in Cass county totaled $2,830,333 during the first three months of 1948 or 22.1 per cent greater than in the same period last year and 157.9 per cent more than in January-March 1941.

However, since a substantial part of the gain in dollar volume was the result of price increases, the true change in sales adjusted for the rise in prices was 12.3 per cent from the 1947 period and 39.1 per cent from the first quarter in 1941.

The bureau of economic and business research of the University of Illinois has just completed a survey showing these figures.

Morgan County Pioneers

MR. & MRS. H. G. BROCKHOUSE

Two of Morgan County's earliest settlers were Herman Gerhard Brockhouse, who with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brockhouse, came to this country from Bippin, Germany, in 1844, and his wife, Anna Marie Elsbain Kruempel Brockhouse.

The couple settled on a farm two miles west of Concord and there reared their nine children. One of these children, Mrs. Caroline Brockhouse Schumacher, still survives.

The farm has continued through the years to be in possession of the family. It is now occupied by a grandson, Fred Nergenah.

Of the 206 descendants of the couple, 205 are still living. At the annual gathering of these descendants, held Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran church at Concord, books containing the family history were distributed. These books, prepared by Warren Brockhouse, Ada Schumacher and C. E. Rice, contain all of the important family happenings up to July 15, 1948.

Reelect Officers

The officers of the Brockhouse association, Warren Brockhouse, president, and Miss Ada Schumacher, secretary-treasurer, were reelected. The family decided to meet each year on the fourth Sunday of August.

Those in attendance at the family gathering were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nergenah and Arthur Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Delmer, Fred Nergenah and Marjorie and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pricke, Helen and Nancy Bauser, Mr. and Mrs. Elfred Delmer, and Judith, Kenneth and Jesse Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Schumacher and Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Verries, Martin, Larry and John, Mrs. Mary Schumacher and Mildred, Mrs. Charlotte Wilker and Agnes, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Schumacher, Janet, Arthur and David, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Delmer, Mrs. Carrie Schumacher, Ada, Herbert and Betty Ann, all of Chapin.

Henrietta Hurrebrink and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hurrebrink, Donald, Richard and Paul, of Taylorville; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Younker of Blue Mound; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Fountain, Elaine, Shirley, Larry, Richard, and Gayla Jean of Edinburg; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brockhouse and John, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Musch and Mrs. Frances E. Brockhouse and Vanell of Concord; Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkwood of Springfield; Mrs. Luther Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Elza Perry of Meredosia; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lakamp and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brockhouse and Robert of Jacksonville; Mr. C. E. Rice and Wilfrid of Arenzville.

Guests were the Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Timm, Miriam, Eunice and Lowell and Martin Staake of Chapin and Mrs. Joseph Brooks and Penelope of Beardstown.

Charge Service Men Deserted And Stole Cars

VIRGINIA—Two service men are being held in the Cass County jail pending charges under the Dyer Act for transporting stolen cars from one state to another and for desertion from the service.

Robert Hamm age 17, is accused of deserting the army at Fort Lawton, California. He is said to have driven a stolen car to Beardstown.

Lester Fox, age 17, is the other man being held on a similar charge of stealing a Ford car in Memphis, Tennessee, where he is stationed. Fox had been in the Navy for six months, part of which time he was in confinement, according to Sheriff Nick Long.

He was first noticed selling watermelons on the streets of Beardstown. Fox was arrested Monday and Hamm on Tuesday.

H. T. Goddin Has 89th Birthday; Feted At Picnic

A picnic supper was given at Nichols park Wednesday evening honoring H. T. Goddin on his 89th birthday anniversary.

A native of Nebraska City, Nebr., Mr. Goddin was born on Aug. 25, 1859. He moved to Missouri at an early age and continued to reside there until coming to Jacksonville a little more than five years ago. His home in this city is with a daughter, Miss Fergene Goddin, at 1320 West State street.

Mr. Goddin is in fairly good health and is actively interested in many things, primarily his surroundings, people and politics. In a reminiscent mood, he can recall events of the Civil War.

Those who attended the outing in his honor were Miss Dorothy Whitaker, Mrs. Bea Loomis, Mrs. Ethel Heneghan, Mr. and Mrs. John May,

Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman, Jack and Nancy Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welles and son, Sidney, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Patterson and son, Ellis, Mrs. J. R. Jones and Anna Jones.

Mr. Goddin's son, Glenn Goddin of Jefferson City, Mo., was unable to be present for the occasion.

BLUFFS

Bluffs—Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Husband and Mrs. Lillian Meier left Monday for a three weeks vacation in Minnesota.

Lorraine and Leo Watson returned home from a two months vacation with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Watson in Wisconsin. They visited many places of scenic beauty and also spent the last four days in Chicago.

The Rev. and Mrs. K. R. Douglas and daughters returned home the last of the week from a three weeks vacation with relatives in North Dakota and Minnesota. Their niece, Joyce Kay Martin of near Macomb, is spending her vacation with them.

Versailles Club Sponsors Flower, Home Exhibit

Versailles.—One of the most successful events staged by the local Woman's club was the flower show and home exhibit held in the Community building.

To the back of the auditorium and through the center were the numerous floral displays. The home exhibits, which included needlework, culinary arts and antiques, were placed at the front and on the stage.

Throughout the afternoon music was furnished by recordings. The program included a medley of piano selections by Mrs. Jess Henry; "Old Fashioned Garden," Mrs. Dean Johnson, accompanied at the piano by

SNAPS AT SNACK SNATCHERS

Frankfort, Ky.—(P)—Frequent complaints about snack debris in the state office building here resulted in a warning to workers to be more tidy about disposal of candy wrappers and soft drink bottles. Finance Commissioner John W. Manning told workers in a circular that unless there is an absence of bottles and wrappers in the immediate future, it would be necessary to remove the soft drink and candy concession from the building.

DELIVERIES, PRICES, TRADE-INS FINANCING, ACCESSORIES

When a manufacturer produces a car so obviously ahead of the times as the Futuramic Oldsmobile, it's only natural that demand for that product should break all records. Add to this today's pent-up need for automobiles—plus continuing shortages of steel and other critical materials—and you'll see why we have a real problem on our hands. We value the good will of our customers. We would like to provide all our customers with new Oldsmobile cars. But unfortunately, this can't be done overnight. That is why we are taking this opportunity to reaffirm publicly our POLICIES ON PRICES AND DELIVERIES. We believe that under present circumstances these policies constitute a sound basis for "fair play" to everybody. And we hope that, on this basis, we may continue to serve you.

White Hall Man Talks Politics With Southerners

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 26.—(P)—Richard C. Bell of White Hall, Ill., was among a group of northern business and professional men who talked to southern leaders about the south's civil rights views. Bell said after the meeting yesterday—in which the southern hosts did most of the talking on the racial issue—that he was impressed with what the southerners had to say and would tell persons in other sections about it. The southerners said an answer to the south's racial problem lies in health, education and economic opportunities for the negro race.

Miss Wilmuth Hunt Weds Robt. Cosgrove

Rites Performed Here Tuesday By Bride's Brother

Palms surrounding a large cross, flanked on either side with flowers and candelabra provided a lovely background for the marriage of Miss Wilmuth Janet Hunt and Robert Charles Cosgrove, which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at Grace church in a double-ring ceremony performed by the bride's brother, the Rev. William Hunt of Woodland, Ill.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Douglas Hunt, 203 South Fayette street, and the late Douglas Hunt. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Karl Cosgrove of Cambridge, O., and the late Karl Cosgrove.

Organ Prelude
An organ prelude was presented by Miss Melba Potter, who also accompanied George Fox as he sang "Because," "One Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were also used.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Ruth Frange of New Douglas, Ill. Jerry Breneman of Davenport, Ia., was the best man. The bridesmaids were Miss Nora Cunningham of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Miss Virginia Swain of this city. Dolly Janet Hunt, niece of the bride, and Nancy Phillips, the bride's cousin, were the flower girls.

The guests were seated by Leon Bartley of Pittsburgh. Paul Noland of Champaign and Walter Dannenberg of Mt. Pulaski.

Bride Wears White
The bridal gown was of white organdy, styled with a snug bodice and full skirt made en train. Inserts of lace fashioned the yoke and the long tightly-fitted sleeves which tapered to points over the wrists. The fingertip veil worn by the bride was of French illusion, held in place with a tiara of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, tied with satin streamers.

The three bridal attendants were attired in identical gowns of pale blue organdy, fashioned similarly to that of the bride's. They wore opera-length gloves and headbands of braided organdy and carried colonial bouquets. The little flower girls wore floor-length gowns of petal pink.

Reception Follows
A reception was given at the home of the bride's mother immediately following the ceremony. Assisting with the serving were Miss Eleanor Garman of Kershney, Pa., Wanda Dobbs of this city and Mrs. Walter Dannenberg of Mt. Pulaski.

The couple then left on a wedding trip to Virginia Beach, Va. They will also stop in Washington, D. C. on their way to Pittsburgh, where they will make their home at 628 South Aiken avenue.

The bride was graduated from Jacksonville High school, Blackburn college and the University of Pittsburgh. Her husband is a graduate of Ohio State university. Since his graduation he has been associated with the Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad Co. in Pittsburgh.

Announce New Vet Training Procedures

Illinois World War II veterans entering training on and after Sept. 1 under the GI Bill of Rights are expected to benefit greatly from a simplification of forms and procedures in conjunction with letters of eligibility.

Homer G. Bradney, administrator of the Illinois Veterans commission, announced Thursday that service officers in all of the 102 counties of the state have been briefed on the changes and are ready to assist veterans in the new forms and procedures.

Major change is the substitution of five application forms. These forms are used in applying for educational benefits, re-entering or interrupting educational courses and for accrued leave. Veterans should apply 30 days prior to entering education or training but will be permitted in this instance to submit an old type letter of eligibility provided it is accompanied by one of the new forms.

The expressed objective of the new procedure is to speed up processing of applications for veterans in institutional and on-the-job training.

However, the new change requires clearance with the VA central office in Washington, and if this operation creates no backlog, subsistence payments may be received more promptly than in the past.

Edith Corrao Becomes Bride Of Robt. Davis

Wedding Takes Place At Church In Wisconsin

The First Methodist church was the scene of one of Oconomowoc's loveliest weddings Saturday, August 14, at 4 a. m. when Miss Edith Corrao, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Clark Corrao of Madison, Wisconsin, former residents of Oconomowoc, Wis., exchanged vows with Robert Lee Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lee Davis of Jacksonville.

The double-ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Arthur Johnson and Dr. John W. Perry, D.D., before an altar banked with white gladioli, ferns, palms and wedding tapers in twin candelabra. Preceding the rites, Miss Jerry Hammer, of Louisville, Ky., sang "Because." She was accompanied by Mrs. Verne Olson who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white slipper satin, with fitted bodice, long sleeves and peplum. A tier of white satin was cut away in front and extended into a train in back revealing a lace underskirt. The bride's finger-tip veil matched the lace in her gown. Her bouquet was of white gardenias, centered with three baby green orchids.

Sister Is Honor Attendant
Miss Jean Corrao, her sister's maid of honor, wore a gown of emerald green satin with a fitted bodice and cap sleeves accented by a lace tunic and a large satin sash tied in a bow at back. Similarly styled gowns in royal purple satin were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Jane Stephens, Mrs. James Gates and Mrs. Richard Weix. All of the attendants wore short lace mitts and carried bouquets of white shasta daisies tied with yellow bows, with matching flowers in their hair. The groom was attended by his brother, George William Davis of Louisville, Ky. The ushers were Dr. Robert Stephens and Richard Weix of Oconomowoc and James Gates of Madison.

The bride's mother was attired in an aqua embroidered English crepe dress with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a steel green satin with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was centered with three tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. At either end of the table were lighted tapers and garden flowers. Mrs. Charles Schramek, Gloria Schramek and Miss Ann Snyder assisted in serving.

To Tour Canada
After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to Canada. For traveling the bride wore a light wool duobonnet dress with white accessories. Her corsage was the baby green orchids from her bride bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Oconomowoc High school and MacMurray college. The bridegroom is a graduate of Jacksonville High school and attended Illinois College and the University of Louisville, Ky. He is now attending the dental school at St. Louis University. The couple will reside in St. Louis.

You look super and feel super — because what you've got your hands on is not only a fashion plate, but a very SUPER-doe too.

Your hand on the wheel rests ever light and easy because this beauty tracks so true, obeys so readily your slightest guidance.

Your treadle foot can get an instant crescendo from the quiet purr of a Fireball power plant that's patiently content when you want to take it easy — and beaver-eager the instant you signal for action.

Big soft billowy tires mounted on the widest rims in the industry lay a feather pillow over the roadway's rough spots.

Soft deep springs of coil steel soak up shocks and blows that spell jarring jolts and jounces in lesser vehicles.

Power flows with a special silkiness from which engine sensation is eliminated by special Hi-Poised engine mountings not found in any other automobile on the market.

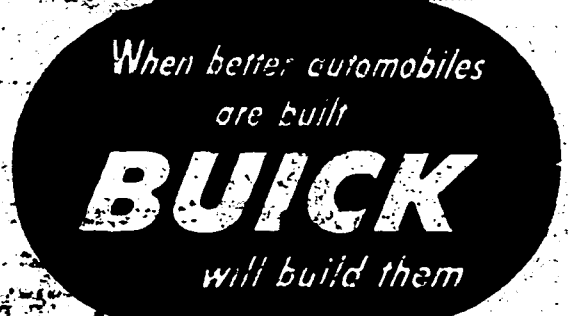

When you want to loaf, you loaf in deep content. When you want to go, you go with a surge of thrilling power that won't be denied its place at the head of the procession.

Fun? Of course it's fun to travel in Buick SUPER fashion.

It's the fun of traveling in style, traveling in comfort, traveling with adventuresome dash.

Glenn Davis Sets New Mark In First Pro Appearance

Los Angeles, Aug. 26.—(P)—Lieut. Glenn Davis broke record and a lot of hearts last night in his first appearance as a professional player and as a temporary member of the Los Angeles Rams. He is temporary because he's still in the army.

The record shattered was when he dashed 100 yards full football regalia, carrying a full, over the grass in 10.8 seconds, the generally accepted record for this feat was the 11.2 seconds made in 1942 by San Diego State College's Olympic broad-jump champ, Willie Pyle, then at San Jose, Calif., state college.

The broken hearts belong to the top brass of the Rams organization, the biggest break he suffered by being coach Bob Stanger.

The reason...

Davis, Mr. Outside the greatest era of West Point football, played spectacular football, scored three touchdowns, all on passes ranging from 15 to 38 yards, carried out every blocking assignment. He faked and feinted the secondary with the artistry of a Husher or a Benton, and the crowd loved it.

But Davis plays better more time—in the Rams annual charity battle Sept. 2 against the Wilmington Redskins in the Coliseum—and on Sept. 6 he ends his lurch and calls for Korea.

"That," sighed Mr. Snyder, "kills me."

Davis, big gun of the Stydahar's "gold" squad in a 1948 win over George "Traffon's" Blues," said, "Sure, I'd like to be on playing pro ball, but Uncle Sam says no."

We Admit This Golf Story Sounds Fishy

Elevate your eyebrows and sneer if you wish, but here is a story that comes from Nichols park to which several reputable men and boys will testify.

A bass weighing five pounds and measuring slightly over 18 inches was knocked cold by a golf ball Tuesday evening.

The fish didn't get away, either! Tommy Antle and Danay Lakin, two caddies stationed in the lake to retrieve balls, picked up the bass and made for the shore. The bass was taken home by one of several golfers who were in the vicinity.

Antle and Lakin didn't know the man who drove the aethal ball from No. 3 green. They have seen him play golf several times.

They reported that the ball hit the water and sort of skipped. The bass happened to be on the surface, with fatal results.

Tommy Fairfield, professional in charge of the course, and Russell Kelley, park superintendent, soon heard the story of the bass which couldn't take it. The caddies furnished all the details—except the golfer's name.

Some said it was Thompson. Others believed his name was Buchanan.

If the gentleman who used a golf club to get himself or his friends a fish dinner will step to the front, we'll be pleased to accord him full recognition.

Leffler's Homer

Salts Ball Game

For Moose Nine

Leffler's inside park homer with two out in the last half of the eighth broke the knot and gave the victory to the Moose team by a 5-4 count over the Nescos nine Thursday night.

The winners took the lead in the fourth, lost it in the sixth and tied it up in the seventh.

Vinyard, Nescos twirler, allowed only four other hits. His buddies tapped Tapscott for an even eighth, but bubbled four times while the Moose laddies put in an errorless evening.

Thursday evening's curtain raiser cost both teams plenty of shoe leather. As the scorekeeper reached for another pencil, he announced that the Elks had won by 10 runs over the New Method boys, 23-13. And in all five innings. The victors amassed 17 hits; the losers 10. The latter put in their best hits in the first frame, an impressive eight runs. The Elks jumped into the lead in the third and stayed there.

THE STORY: A mysterious locked room on the top floor of Nuns Farthing, a rented country house, fascinates dreamy 17-year-old Sabrina. Father and Aunt Kip tell her the room belongs to one of the owner's sons and they are not to have the use of it. One rainy day Sabrina, overcome by curiosity, picks the lock. She finds a room so well lit, almost as though she knew its owner. Meanwhile, half-way across the world, Hilary, a shy, shrewd, and wounded in the desert beside a crashed plane. "It's a queer sort of place, you know, with a queer name," said Hilary. "It's called Nuns Farthing. Mother won't live in it since my father died, and George—that's my brother—George says it gives him the pip. They always threaten to let it, but nobody wants a place like that any more. There's a housekeeper, Mrs. Pilton. She keeps it going when the family's away. There's something I've got to do there—my old room is on the top floor—I left things strewn about, rather—I thought I was going back—it's two years this month—I meant to go home—just

"Yes, the Mendips are weird," agreed Hilary. "And the house itself is a bit weird. It will never be mine, of course, I'm the younger son." He said it simply, without bitterness, and shifted painfully against his lumpy pillow. "This was to be my last job for a while. I was going home the end of this month."

Dalton moved nearer to him and showed the hand on his wrist so that Hilary was supported more comfortably against his shoulder. "We'll get you home, old boy," he said gently.

All Great Lakes States Oppose Chicago's Plan To Hike River Levels

Chicago, Aug. 26—(AP)—Illinois and other Great Lakes states tangled anew today in their ancient dispute over how much water should be diverted from Lake Michigan into the Illinois waterway.

Consensus of everyone except Illinoisians was: "No more than the 1,500 cubic feet a second permitted under U. S. Supreme court decree until Chicago completes its sewage treatment system."

The occasion for the interchange of known views was a meeting called by the committee to study Lake Michigan diversion, appointed by Gov. Green of Illinois. Subject was a report by the Illinois state water resources and flood control board which recommended an increase in the flow of 2,000 cubic feet per second, or a total of 3,500 for sewage purposes.

Say No Change Warranted

The viewpoint of the Lake States was expressed by Herbert Naujok, Chicago attorney representing the Great Lakes Harbor association. He said:

"The association is still unalterably opposed to any change in the diversion rate. Nothing in the picture, including the present high lake levels, warrants any change in our stand."

Grover Broadfoot, Wisconsin attorney general, said: "We positively have not changed. Wisconsin is still unalterably and violently opposed to any further diversion."

A Chicago Problem

Said George B. Sowers, director of the Ohio Department of Public Works: "Health is purely a local problem of Chicago. Ohio has no responsibility for the disposal of Chicago's sewage."

Sowers likewise denied that lowering lake levels through increased diversion at Chicago would have any effect upon erosion problems created by current high lake levels. Rather, he said, more diversion would adversely affect shipping.

"You drop the level of the lakes one inch," he said, "and you take one inch off the cargo capacity of every ship on the lakes. This runs into hundreds of millions of tons."

A Test Hearing

The meeting was called by the committee for the purpose of ascertaining whether Lake States, which successfully opposed diversion efforts all the way through the Supreme Court, had changed their opinions in view of lake levels, now the highest in recorded history.

Naujok put the case for no more diversion until the Chicago sewage system is completed. He said: "It has been 10 years since the Supreme Court decree took effect. Chicago has not yet complied with that by completing its system. We feel that until it does, it should not ask for more water."

Additional representatives, both official and unofficial, came from Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota, and New York.
